HON IKONE, OCTOBER 12TH, 1870. Tax action which has been taken by the foreign residents at Tiontsin in respect to the present insecure state of affairs, will have the effect of bringing the question whether it is or is not necessary to protect British trade in these parts; into a remarkably small compass. It will be another instance of the stern logic of events which forms stronger argument in the ultimate determination of political questions than the most careful writings and the most brilliant speaches. Arguments are made upon one side and another of all political questions, and as is too frequently the case in the affairs of the world the wrong view advocated with ability has a greater effect upon the public mind than the correct view, into the advocacy of which, as much talent is not employed. It has been contended for a series of years that there is no necessity for any great protection of British and other foreign subjects in China; that the people are sufficiently well governed to be kept in order by their authorities, and that the authorities are sufficiently friendly to admit of our relying upon their protection. On the other hand, it was urged alight grounds for apprehension. with much force that, though the people if left to themselves were friendly, there is always the danger of their being worked upon by the mandarins, and that the latter were treacherous and unreliable. The latter view there can be no question is strictly founded on truth. Though there are at times notable exceptions, such, for example, as the late Vicercy Ma, as a rule, the official and literary valuable book. And as it is well known that the prosperous ship owners and merchants observance by its own subjects of treaty. classes are deeply hostile, and are the more to be feared because they mask their batred under an appearance of friendship. This view, however, though substantiated by the testimony of all those practically acquainted with China and Chinese affairs, has unfor- respecting Obina which evidently prevails at French are able to traverse the sea in almost tunately not been believed at home, because it happened that the other side was chiefly advocated by persons in high office, whose talents and position naturally caused their representations to be more attended to than those of the generality of people, who, though they had stern facts on their side, were unable to obtain the same hearing as was accorded to the advocates of the opposite view. But while argument and counter-argument were going on, events were on the march, and gradually one point after another in respect to foreign relations has been proved by incontrovertible facts. The dauger of being unprotected is fully shown by the Tientsin Massacre; but this alone might not be sufficient to induce the Home Government to afford the necessary protection. What if the merchants in China are in some danger? They are a long way off, and there is a fair chance of things going on peaceably, and if the trade can contipue without the necessity for our running into the expense of protecting it, so much the better, and so many thousands more in Mr. Lowe's surplus. But, at last, an answer, of $2.50 upon the sum of $6.00. Sent to prison engaged in war, she will have made such good or's yamen in the suite of the Consul, a M. which it will be difficult for the Home Government to misunderstand, has been given to these arguments by plain facts. The Tientsin community are hesitating whether they can, stay through the winter. Tientsin, during the year 1869, imported among other goods 1,202,835 pieces of Grey Shirtings, and 920,800 pieces of T-Cloths. It depends upon whether the merchanis at the port be or be not protected | whether a great portion of this trade have or have not to be abandoned. COLONIAL DEFENCES. The last Cape Mail brings news that the formation of volunteer corps to guard the frontiers was proceeding actively, being stimulated by apprehensions of a rising amongst the Caffres upon the withdrawal of the regular forces; and this event was expected to take clace in a few weeks time. It is stated, however, that the burthon thus imposed on the colony would prove a great strain on its resourced in the present state of depression ar-sing from the long and serere commercial crisis from which it is but just emerging; and that the great disparity of numbers between the colonists and the antive tribes naturally caused the gravest apprehenmons as to the results of conflict.

The same muit brings the text of a manly and most reasonable appeal from the pensioners and discharged soldiers on the exposed Eastern frontier for a grant of arms to enable them to repel invasion. At a meeting held by them in June last, the following memerial was ununimously agreed upon and duly forwarded to General Hay, commanding her Majesty's forces at the Cape :

May it please your Excellency,-We the undersigned penaloners and discharged soldiers residing at King William's Town, being apprehensive that the Kaffer tribes on this frontier may take advantage of the removal of H.M. troops and make wer upon the in babitants; and being for the most part unprovided with arms of any kind, and unable to speur the expense of providing them, bumbly pray that your Excallency muy be pleased to take our cuse into your most hivourable consideration. and place at our disposal a sufficient supply of arms and ammunition to enable us to be prepared to defend the lives of ourselves and cur families should any outbreak unfortunately

We believe that such a contingency is not only possible but highly probable, and we look with the greatest appreheusion and alarm on our present defenceless state, well knowing, as we do from past experience (many of us baving served in the last two Kaffir wars), that our position would be critical under the most favoorable circumstances. In our present atate t would disastrous.

We therefore pray that your Excellency. 20 the representative of her Majesty, in whose service we have spent the best years of our lives, may be pleased to grant our prayer, and supply us with efficient arms, under such restrictions as your Excellency may thing fit to impose, and thereby mable us to render each other mutual protection, and to avail ourselves of that discipline which would, in any emeremailness of our numbers.

And your memorialists as in daty bound will The memorial has received over a bundred signatures.

If one may rely on a paragraph which has been going the round of the papers during the last work, even this request has been refused by her Majesty's representative at Cape Town, and this intelligence is horne out by the followmy notice, which appeared in the Kafrarian Government Ganette of June 27.1 Tenders are called for the conveyance from East Loadon to Woodwich of 500 tons of War Department stores, and about twenty-eight tons of ammunition. Now the arms in store at this frontier town are we may be mare not breech-loaders. They are, in all probability, of a pattern quite obsolete in European warfare, and it may accordingly be expected that when the British taxpayer, whose interests in these matters are so tenderly regarded by the Colonial Office, has paid the homeward freight and expanses on these 500 or 600 tons of war unterial, and they are safely landed at Woolwich, the greater part of them will be sold under the hammer for whatever they will fetch as condemued stores. The British taxpayer will thus be considerably put of pocket, whilst a great and noble colony will have been anubbed, and possibly have been subjected to great disaters. Whilst transactions of this kind are liable to occur, is it surprising that the belief should apraid throughout the ampire that they indicate a chilling disregard of those interests which are uprepresented in Parliament? But how will Lord Kimberley acquit himself.

"Why not ?" asked the Judge. "Theroetists a Hebrew prayer which contains LA. the sentence, that every Jew has a share in the life to come. It is now about twenty years ugo, whilst I was present, whon the man who is the life to come guaranteed to him in the scrolulous blood, there is a remedy that never prayer, to another Jew, a Mr. Y., who aid him fails, that purges out the foul matter from the a certain amount of money for it. As he, whole body-it is Batarou's Sarsaparitht. therefore, ennnot count any longer on a future existence, he has nothing to fear or hope for in the life to come; it must be cortainly indifferent to him whether to swear to a truth or a kalacticod." The matter was examined into, and as the strange transaction was found to have taken place in reality, the Court granted the protest the old man, and the purty who sold his BRISTOL'S SAUSAPARILLA. "share in the life to come" was declared incapable of taking an oath .- Jouish Times.

A Philosophical View of Binnders, and

And if we look philosophically into the nature of a blunder we shall see that it certainly -use at once and freely BRISTOL'S SARBArequires some wit to produce one. A blunderer PARILLA, is one who goes wrong; but to go wrong implies at all, but who stands stock still. A blunder is not simple ignorance; it implies knowledge; it scald or tetter, ashamed to let yourself be seen knowledge; but still it does imply knowledge, gusting is the night-use Buisron's SARSA-It implies a certain amount of thought, of reflection and comparison which have had the PARILLA. bad luck to be turned to a wrong end. There is often 'great ingenuity displayed in a blunder. not that it fails to see the whole your life one BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA. thing and its relation to other things, but still quickness of perception as opposed to slowness and duliness. A real blunder, a genuine good | Whose kneed are entarged and deformed with blunder, such as dwells in the mind and on White Swellings, there is still hope; do not which the mind falls back as a source of lasting enjoyment, always implies a certain measure of ingenuity. The pleasure afforded by the blun- required-Save your limbs, use Baiston's der is largely produced by tracing out the con- SARSAPARILLA. nection of ideas in the mind of the blanderer and this connection is often very subtle and ingenious. The blunderer knows several things and connects them together; but either he fails to know some other thing which is ncedful for perfect knowledge, or else be connects the things which he does know in some way which is doubtless very plansible, but which uninckily is not right. We have seen it sumewhere said that the difference of a blunder from pure ignorance is that the hinnderer knows so much that he ought to know more. The blunderer, therefore, is always blameworthy, while the purely ignorant pers in is not necessarily blamsworthy. It is perhaps no part of his business to gain the particular had no means of gaining it if be wished. But in some way, broken Nature's laws. Your Sickof learning the particular subject, and he has the knowledge which is needful to make the blunder curbt really to have kept him from making the blunder. Pure ignorance, then, is amusing, while a blander is in its own nature both amusing and blameworthy .- Salurday

The "instrument Room" of the Electric This room, the most sensitive spot in th whole world-the cerebrum which receives and globe may he looked upon as one of the most the clear sound of the bell, some again by meuns of piano like notes, which spell; the the clatter of all these sounds mixed with the metallic tinkle of the electric bell, bailing from distant western and northern cities -not t human voice is heard-although, stranger still, the manipulators are all women. Accord ing to the rules of the service, the switter they talk the better; but it must be done in silence with some unseen correspondent at the extramity, it may be, of the kingdom-n necessary condition in order to insure attention and accuracy whilst the operators are at work. It is certainly no unplanant eight to see to the bowels; -need we say that this medicine these young women doing the work of in the world, proving that they are capable of thoughtful labour, and trustworthy in circumstances of great pith and moment. It is discovered at last that the sawing needle is not the only instrument they can master. They atrongly unti-bilious, powerfully tonic, and the are evidently drawn from the middle rank of best of all nervines. They, are the result of life; and we are informed that they make graphic instrument as a suitable means of employment. . . . Whilst the visitor is listen. ing to the clutter of one half of the world talking to the other half, he is aware of a dull thud striking from time to time upon the ear. On inquiry he finds this atranga sound proceeds from the pneumatic tube, the new astvant the electric telegraph has called to its sid; and within a glass case against the wall be sees frained, just like so many fruit trees in an orclined house, long tubes of gutta-percha, ending in an oblong shaped month, covered with thick plate glass. As be is watching, a long round pellet is projected in this reception case with the force of a spent shot - taken out by the clerk in attendance-and immediately opened. It contains a telegraphic message, ment bern for transmission to some other wire. This proumatio tube at present is only extended to offices half a mile round; but as this ball mile is in the busiest part of the City, an arm in which it is difficult to get along fast by foot messengera, porterage work is done in seconda as compared to minutes by this ficet mechanical messenger. Eventually all the great district post offices will be connected with the central flice by pneumatio-tubes, thus vastly accelerating the speed of the telegrams. In ad lition to the offices within ball a mile Telegraph-atreat, which are thus served by this sorial Mercury, the bend office at St. Martine le Grand is provided with a tube. The grent submarine cables, such as the Atlantic, the Indian, and all the marine lines wishing to use the central office us a means of forwarding messages, will have lines of tube to this room for that purpose. If the reader remembers his old per-shooter days, he will understand their. principle of action in a moment. If he blows he impels the pea, if he sucks he draws it up into his mouth: Pressure and suction are the two forces used in this pea or message-shooter of our maturer days. The telegraphic message comes in a round plag-box; covered with carpet or flanucl, so as just to make it fit loosely the

It is one of the surest and speedicat of cures for every form of nervousness. It relieves headache when other applications completely fail. It reinvigorates the futigued and overtaxed body. It imparts force and buoyancy o the mental powers. It clears the complexion of all pimples, impurities, and roughness. and to the faint and exhausted invalid it leads strength, and gives ease and comfort, and yet withal it is

THE MOST DELIGHTFUL OF PERFUMES.

The sense of smell never tires of it. Ite fresh ness and exquisite fragrance when once enjoyed become ever after a positive necessity.

It is this wonderful combination of the useful with the agreeable, that has made MURBAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER 80. widely celebrated and so highly prized. In many warm climates, four to six bottles of it are mixed with the water of each bath, which so invigorates, recaperates, and strongthens the Ouetomers and the public generally, that they system, that the enervating effects of climate arg thrown off.

It is not alone in the richness or delicate of its, fragrance that MUBBAY & LANSAN'S FLORIDA WATER equals, and even surpasses, the most expensive of the French and English perfumery, but also in its lasting power. The handkerchief sprinkled with it, is perfumed for weeks, or until it is washed; and, nolike the English and French extracts, time does not deteriorate its fragrance, but rather serves to refine or spiritualize its exquisite aroma, As a cosmerio it is unequalled, imparting softness, clearness, smoothness, and whiteness to the face, neck, arms, and hands; but as there are counterfeits, it is necessary always to ask
